STRAWBERRY PLANTS

By parcel post or express prepaid

Strawberries will grow in nearly all soils that produce good crops of corn or potatoes. Imperfect varieties must have perfect varieties near them for best results.

Perfect Varieties—Glenmary, Dr. Burrill, Pearl, Joe Johnson and Kellogg's Premier.

Imperfect Varieties—Kellogg's Prize and Sample.

Kellogg's Premier—The earliest and makes the longest season, the best producer of large size berries of any berry I have ever grown. I think so much of this variety I planted about two-thirds of my acreage to this variety alone this last spring, and the spring of 1922 I expect to plant three-fourths of my acreage to this variety. I honestly believe the Premier will produce more quarts of good sized salable berries than any other variety under cultivation today.

If you are going to plant strawberries for market or home use my advice is to plant the Kellogg Premier.

The last few seasons we have been sold out of berry plants of all kinds before the planting season was over therefore I would advise you to order early.

Cumberland—The largest black Raspberry known has been well tested in all sections, giving thorough satisfaction.

Plum Farmer—The Plum Farmer is vigorous, healthy and productive. Early in ripening and matures its crop in a short time. Very fine and good flavor.

Gregg—A vigorous grower and great yielder. Ripens later than Plum Farmer.

Haymaker—Purple cap. Canes vigorous in growth, produces the largest crops of all. This Raspberry makes me more money than any other variety I have on the place. Plants all sold.

Northern Grown Fruit Trees and Ornamental Nursery Stock.

If in need of Peach, Pear, Cherry, Apple or other fruit trees, Rose Bushes, Shrubs, and other fruit and Ornamental Nursery Stock, we can supply your wants at very reasonable prices. These Fruit Trees, Shrubs, etc., are grown in Northern Ohio, and are free from disease, healthy and first class in every respect. If interested write for prices.

Claims—If any, must be made upon receipt of plants when they will be carefully examined and, if just, all made satisfactory. I send out only good plants in good condition, carefully packed, but success or failure depends in so large a degree upon the care and management after received that I do not, because I cannot, guarantee plants to live.
